Junior Hockeyists Play In Tourney For Rink Cup

The Sexsmith rink donated a cup to be played for by boys from the district under 18 years of age. Invitations were sent all over the country, but owing to the state of the roads, and in some cases sickness, there were not as many entries as expected. There were four entries—two from Grande Prairie, one from Clairmont, and one from Sexsmith.

The first game was played at 2:30 in the afternoon, Saturday, January 14, between Sexsmith's Flyers of Grande Prairie and Sexsmith, the latter team scoring a win, 3 to 2. The first goal was scored by Grande Prairie when one of their boys shot from the side and the puck glanced off Fred Meen's stick into the net—an unfortunate break for Sexsmith. This was within the first three minutes of the play in the first period. Shortly after this Meen took the puck down the ice and passed to Turner, who shot it into the net. The second Sexsmith goal was scored by Turner off a pass from Guitard. Fred Meen grabbed the disc, went through for the defense and scored the third goal for the home team, unassisted, shortly before the bell rang to end the period. The second period went scoreless. About half way through the final stanza Miller of the Flyers made a nice shot from the side which Howe was unable to stop. Grande Prairie then put on the pressure to try and even it up, but it was not to be, and when the final bell rang the home team was up one goal, giving them the game. Two penalties, Guitard of Sexsmith and Smith of Grande Prairie.

The second game was played by St. Joseph's of Grande Prairie and Clairmont, with a win for the former team, 5 to 2. Clairmont, who have had very little practice this winter, scored the first goal just after the game started, and their hopes soared considerably, but this was short-lived, as St. Joe's soon tied it up. Just before this period ended St. Joe's got another counter. In the second frame St. Joe's added another to their score, and in the final two more, with Clairmont scoring their second and final goal shortly before the end of the game. Sexsmith scored both goals for Clairmont, and for St. Joseph's M. Biles, Henning, D. Miller, Bill Clark and P. Wright were the ones responsible for the five tallies. Penalties: Field of St. Joe's and Tomahak and Dickson (2) of Clairmont.

The final game was played between St. Joseph's and Sexsmith, with Sexsmith winning, 4 to 2. Sexsmith's goalkeepers, getting a goal-keeper, never losing his head and stopping them from all angles. He was well supported by his defense, Fred Meen especially being a tower of strength. Sexsmith's four counters were made by Meen, Spry, Turner and Guitard. Foote got an assist on Spry's goal. O. Gust was the referee and Bob Shaw the linesman for the three games and both handled their job impartially.

If Grande Prairie had only sent up one team, and concentrated their players, the result might have been different. However, this will be settled on Saturday night, January 14, when a game will be played for the Oakford Cup between Grande Prairie and Sexsmith. This is bound to be a good game, so rally rounfolks, and show your appreciation by attending. The line-ups of the teams are:

Sexsmith's Flyers—Goal, Scully; Stojan, Bob Bessent, Bill Bessent, S. Miller, Riley, Stiles, Eddy Nelson, M. Bird and Seaman.

St. Joseph's—Goal, McDonald; Field, Thorp, Henning, Clarke, Burchart, P. Wright, Knight, Berge, Dickson, C. L. Louie, C. Wright, and Ernie Nelson.

Clairmont—Goal, D. Thompson; L. Dickson, W. Semack, P. Semack, F. Redwood, A. Redwood, T. Conrad, W. Conrad, A. Tomahak and G. Sanborn. Several brother acts on these teams.

Charcoal and diamonds are made of the very same element, carbon. The diamonds of the poorest quality sell for more than charcoal. In fact, charcoal is worth only about $15 ton.

Water is of prime importance in the making of good paper. Paper mills must have a large supply of good water. In fact, water is so important in the making of paper that it is often said that paper is made of water and wood.

WHY THE FRENCH TRICOLOR STILL FLIES IN OLD QUEBEC

Why does the French Tricolor fly from so many mainstays in the Province of Quebec? This is a question that is frequently put to guides and informants who are asked to explain the States visitors to French Canada.

Use of the French flag seems to have led many tourists to believe that French-Canadians imagine they have established a miniature France in the States and occasionally to the United States visitors to French Canada.

Nothing is further from the truth, which is briefly as follows: In 1942, the French flag was hoisted in the Province of Quebec by the French Canadian Society of Quebec, which was organized by the name of the flag of French Canada, but the motion was rejected. The French-Canadians wanted none of it.

Twelve years later, however, in 1954, the British Empire was celebrating its three different occasions: the victories of Alamo, Balaklava and Inkerman—episodes of the Crimean War won by the allied armies of England and France. Throughout the year the British Empire was glorified and the capital letters V, E, and E were used in the name of the French Emperor Napoleon III. The French flag was hoisted in the name of the two victorious generals, Simpson and Lord Roberts.

In July 1955, the British Admiralty allowed a French warship "La Caravelle" to penetrate the waters of St. Lawrence as far as the port of Quebec for 24 hours. The ship was the population, English as well as the French flag, and it was hoisted in the name of the two victorious generals, Simpson and Lord Roberts.

This event, of course, provoked the French flag, and it was hoisted in the name of the two victorious generals, Simpson and Lord Roberts.

It was the first time in 1955 that the French flag was hoisted in the name of the two victorious generals, Simpson and Lord Roberts.

It had appeared in Canada, and a movement was set up.

That is how it came about that the Tricolor of the French Revolution, instead of the flag of the British Empire, was hoisted in the Province of Quebec. It was purely of feeling. It is still a matter of politics, but of habit and half-conscious sentiment. From St. John's to Vancouver, the French flag is hoisted in the name of the two victorious generals, Simpson and Lord Roberts.
